THE FOWLER MEETING

The Republican Candidate for Delegate Addresses a Globe Audience.

B. A. Fowler, the republican candidate for delegate to congress, received a respectful hearing last night from an audience that comfortably filled Odd Fellows hall.

The candidate, accompanied by J. E.
Shelton, who reports Mr. Fowler's speeches for the republican press, arrived late, having come over the mountains from Kelvin, a cold and fatiguing ride, and had barely time to get their supper before the hour announced for the meeting.

Mr. Fowler entered the hall with Robt. E. Merritt, secretary of the county central committee, and a few minutes later they were joined on the stage by Attorney L. L. Henry and Frank Gill, and to Mr. Henry was delegated the task of introducing the speaker, which he did briefly in well chosen language; although the emphasis with which he spoke of single statehood as the question of most moment to the people of Arizona, made Mr. Fowler noticeably uneasy.

The absence from the stage of all the local republican leaders was at once remarked, and we could not help but feel sorry for the visiting candidate, deserted by the influential republicans of Globe from whom he had a right to expect at least courteous treatment.

Mr. Merritt had done well in decorating the stage and making all arrangements for the meeting, and Mr.
Henry did his best under trying circumstances, he being a newcomer and not having a vote in the coming election.

The situation was certainly discouraging to Mr. Fowler, but he gave no outward sign of the disappointment which he no doubt felt very keenly.
Mr. Fowler's talk—it could not be called a speech—was distinguished by the same old arguments used by the republicans for the past fifteen years, namely: "If you want to secure statehood you must send to Washington a delegate in harmony with the administration." It has been worn threadbare and, besides, is not true, as everyone knows the republican party will not grant Arizona separate statehood, as aside from the question of party allegiance there is the sectional issue, and the eastern republicans are strongly opposed to increasing the number of western senators.

Mr. Fowler is not at all modest in claiming credit for securing appropriations for carrying on the work of the reclamation service in Arizona and for the building of the Tonto dam; also in shaping irrigation legislation, in none of which matters, to our knowledge, has Mr. Fowler's influence counted for much. He has simply acted as a well paid promoter of the Water Users Association of Salt River Valley and the Tonto wagon road which is a monument to the poor judgment (if nothing worse) of himself and Louis C. Hill, of the geological survey.

Mr. Fowler's speech was weak and he would better have cut Globe out of his itinerary.

Mr. Fowler's speech was weak and
he would better have cut Globe out of
his itinerary.

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATES RETURN FROM THE NORTH

George J. Stoneman and the democratic candidates, Geo. W. P. Hunt, W. W. Brookner, Richard Fleming, Ed P. Shanley and A. R. Edwards returned on Tuesday afternoon from their canvass of the northern precincts.

Owing to the death of M. J. Fuller the meeting announced for Pine was not held, but largely attended and successful meetings were held at Payson and Roosevelt, which were followed by suppers and dances.

Mr. Stoneman was the principal speaker and he ventilated the expert report and the hypocrisy shown by certain republican officials in that connection.

Geo. W. P. Hunt, candidate for councilman, also spoke effectively, and other candidates also addressed the meetings.

The outlook in the north for the democratic ticket is very good.

The Peoples Supply company has opened the Peerless market in the Redman building, under the management of Chas. Edmondson, assisted by Ed Walters, and is prepared to serve the public with the choicest meats, poultry, fish, etc. They will have their new delivery wagon out on Saturday, and will receive orders for delivery in all parts of town. Read their advertisement on the last page of this number of the BELT.

W. W. Brookner, the democratic nominee for county treasurer, is recognized as one of Globe's most progressive business men, and is well equipped for the position of treasurer.
Mr. Brookner will receive a large vote and be elected.

Rev. Dr. R. I. McKee appointed by the late conference, held at Prescott, to the pastorate of the Globe Methodist Episcopal church arrived from the east last Saturday, accompanied by Mrs. McKee and their younger son, Brownson. Dr. McKee held two services on Sunday, making an informal talk in the forenoon, and in the evening preaching to a large congregation.
He is an earnest speaker and made a very favorable impression. Dr. Mc-Kee came from the Pittsburg conference, where for the past three years he filled the pulpit of Friendship Park M. E. church, one of the leading churches of Pittsburg. At his own request Dr. McKee was transferred to the Arizona conference, hoping that the dry and invigorating climate of this territory would prove beneficial to his wife whose health is somewhat impaired.

Frank Ketcherside, foreman of the Vosburgh ranch, near the head of Canyon creek, spent Sunday and Monday here. He reports range conditions the best that northeastern Gila county has experienced for a number of years. Cattle are in good fix and there is abundant feed to carry them through the winter. Mr. Vosburgh, who has been leasing range on the White Mountain Indian reservation from the government, recently obtained grazing privileges over an increased area, sufficient for several thousand head of stock, and will probably be in the market for cattle.

MARRIED IN IDAHO

John Kavanaugh, of Troy, Arizona, and Miss Esther Jewell

We are pleased to acknowledge the receipt of cards announcing the marriage of Miss Esther Jewell to John Kavanaugh, which was celebrated October 19, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Jewell, in Cambridge, Idaho.

The bride is a very estimable young lady and is kindly remembered here, and especially at Troy, where she taught the public school for a term and made many friends.

Mr. Kavanaugh, the groom, has a host of friends in this part of Arizona. He is the storekeeper and postmaster at Troy, having filled both positions for several years.

Mr. and Mrs. Kavanaugh will be at home to their friends after November 21, at Troy, Arizona.

The SILVER BELT tenders congratulations.

F. W. Hoar, formerly superintendent of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting company, returned Tuesday night from a visit to the Lake district, Michigan and El Paso. He has opened an office in the latter city and will give his attention to examining and reporting on mines, the designing and erection of reduction works and mining machinery, and management and consultation in respect to mining enterprises. Mr. and Mrs. Hoar and baby expect to leave for El Paso early next week.

The Morenci baseball club defeated the Globe Colts in two games last Sunday by scores of 18 to 4 and 15 to 4.
The home boys were not in it with the visitors, who are far above the average as ball tossers and a very gentlemenly set. Lack of space forbids extended notice.

Prest S. F. Sullenberger, of the First National Bank of Bisbee, who was here for nearly two months assisting in the management of the First National of Globe, left on Wednesday morning for Bisbee.

Ed Laufer of Safford spent las Sunday in town.

SUDDEN DEATH OF JOSEPH P. TYRRELL

About 8:30 o'clock last night Jos. P.
Tyrrell, who was delirious from the excessive use of liquor, wandered into the corral adjoining Wm. Mill Williams' store and residence, and attempted to enter a window. Mr. Williams, hearing the noise, went out to investigate, and as he approached, Tyrrell fell backward into a shallow ditch circling a tree, and partially filled with water. He was lifted out of the ditch and a moment later expired.

Tyrrell was an engineer at the Old Dominion smelter, but had not been working recently. Nothing is known here of his past, but among his effects was found a receipt for dues, showing that he had been a member of Battle Mountain lodge, No. 23, F. & A. M., of Battle Mountain, Nevada. The receipt was dated June 16, 1903. A telegram was sent to the secretary of the above lodge, notifying him of Tyrell's death.

Acting Coroner C. C. Carico held an inquest over the remains, and the jury returned a verdict of death from natural causes.

The body is held at the undertaking rooms of F. L. Jones, awaiting information from Battle Mountain lodge.

A WEEK OF ATTRACTION

Politics and the Circus Hold the Boards. County Candidates Returning to Globe for the Windup of the Campaign

Luther Green of Solomonville, accompanied the Morenci ball team and kept the official score of the games.

J. Albert Mallory spoke on Socialism to a moderate sized audience in Odd Fellows hall on Tuesday night.

Mrs. R. B. Hegardt returned on Saturday last from Duluth, Minn., accompanied by a young lady niece, who will remain for awhile on a visit.

D. W. Wickersham, of the firm of Solomon & Wickersham, wholesale merchants of Safford and Globe, spent several days here during the week.
Their Globe business is making substantial growth.

U. G. Priddy, roadmaster of the G.
V. & N., who left here about ten days ago for Los Angeles to get his family and bring them to Globe, was taken sick on the way to California, and is now down with typhoid in a Los Angeles hospital.

Judge and Mrs. P. C. Robertson returned yesterday from a trip through northern part of the county. They met with a cordial reception wherever they went. The judge embraced the opportunity to visit the schools and found them all progressing.

Mrs. William Brodie arrived last Friday from Oakland, Cal., where she had been on a visit, and remained here the guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. Q.
Robertson until Monday morning, when she took the stage for her home at Rye.

We were favored on Sunday with a call from F. H. Fowler, editor of the Arizona Bulletin, of Solomonville, who accompanied the Morenci base ball team. It was his first visit to Globe, and he was favorably impressed with the town.

Marshall Burnett, of J. H. Burnett & Son, Livingston, came up from the river Sunday and returned home the following day. Marshall's family is now with him at Livingston, consequently he makes his visits here short.
He reported business good.

Patrick Sullivan, a miner who had but recently arrived in the camp, died at the hospital last Saturday from an attack of dysentery. Friends of the deceased made the arrangements for the funeral, which took place from F.
L. Jones' undertaking parlors on Monday afternoon.

Romeo Haby, while playing baseball last Saturday, ran into a wire fence and cut a bad gash in his throat. He was extricated by his companions and taken home. It required a number of stitches to close the wound. Romeo has since been going about with his neck and head swathed in generous sized bandages.

Al Kinney returned last Sunday from St. Louis, where he spent a week seeing the sights at the world's fair.
After talking to Al about his trip we reached the conclusion that he saw more of the pike and Tony Faust's than he did of the exposition proper, but Al had a good time, all right.

Another change of agents of the G.
V. & N. has occurred here. E. W.
Clayton having resigned to accept a position with the Gila Valley Bank & Trust company in Globe. H. L. Rupkey has succeeded him as agent. Mr.
Rupkey has been with the railroad here for some time and is capable and popular.

A calculation on the registration in the several precincts of Gila county discloses the fact that Globe has over 68 per cent of all voters, and that nearly 87 per cent of the entire registered vote is in the precincts of Globe, Roosevelt, Grapevine and San Carlos.

Mrs. H. H. Pratt returned home on Wednesday evening, after an absence of more than a month spent in viewing the world's fair and visiting relatives at Kansas City and Lawrence, Kansas. She enjoyed the trip greatly and is looking remarkably well.

W. H. Woodson returned last Friday from his summer tour which took in the Pacific coast and Missouri. He stayed long enough in St. Louis to see the big fair pretty thoroughly, and then paid a visit to his former home at Buncheon, Mo., which he had left twenty-eight years before. The visit was of great interest to Bud and gratifying to his relatives and old acquaintances. Bud looks ten years younger than when he left here last summer.

M. J. Fuller, a prominent resident of Pine, and former supervisor of Gila county, died on Tuesday evening, October 18, after a short illness. The funeral was held on the following afternoon and was attended by everyone in the settlement. Mr. Fuller's death is the more deplorable for the reason that he leaves a wife and five daughters, the oldest of whom is 13 years. Much sympathy is felt for them.

Register M. R. Moore has requested us to make note of the fact that the plat of survey of township 4 south, range 17 east, has been filed in the land office at Tucson, and lands in said township will be open to entry on Thursday, December 1, 1904, at 9 o'clock in the forenoon. This township covers a part of the Deer Creek coal fields.

J. G. Oldfield, democratic candidate for supervisor, returned yesterday from a canvass of the northern precincts, which he found favorable to the democratic candidates with the exception of Pine, where it is said some of the republican candidates will receive a majority of the votes. Mr.
Oldfield, whose term as supervisor will end with the close of this year, is a competent and conservative official, whose record is unimpeachable, and he is deserving of the support of every voter who has the welfare of Gila county at heart.

TWO HOUSES BURNED

The Lange and Gibson Families Lose Their Homes

Shortly after 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon fire destroyed the houses occupied by A. Lange and family and W.
B. Gibson and family, situated on the hill north of the Webster boarding house, and owned by T. A. Pascoe.
There was no insurance. The fire started in the Lange residence and its origin is unknown. The members of the family were all in the kitchen at the time, and when they discovered the fire in the front room it had eaten through the floor and gained such headway that they only had time to save a few of their personal effects and escape. The house in which the Gibsons lived, being on the windward side, burned slowly, giving opportunity to save the furniture, clothing, etc.

The wind was blowing almost a gale and the Waters home, fifty feet west of the Lange house, was only saved by the exertions of Mr. Waters and two or three friends who hung blankets over the gable end of the roof and kept them saturated with water drawn from a well. Mrs. Waters is confined to her bed by severe sickness and it looked for a time as though she would have to be moved from the house.

Much sympathy is felt for the sufferers from the fire and today the friends of the Lange family gave them substantial assistance.

Democratic candidates Ed P. Shanley and A. R. Edwards returned Tuesday night from Roosevelt and Grapevine, and both seem to be well satisfied with the outlook in those precincts. Mr. Shanley has been out for a month and his canvass of the precincts north of Globe has been very thorough. It now seems pretty well assured that he will be elected by a handsome majority.

Cy Byrne returned Monday from a three weeks' trip to the White mountains, Fort Apache and St. Johns. At the latter place he heard B. A. Fowler expatiate about what a great man he was, how much he had done for Arizona, and how much more he could do if the good people would only elect him to congress. The farmers of Salt river valley can't spare you, Mr. Fowler; you'll have to stay "to hum."

Ex-secretary of the territory, Chas.
H. Akers, who is doing a political stunt, organizing Fowler clubs in the several counties, arrived in town last Friday night with the intention of organizing a club here in the interest of the republican candidate for congress, but he met with so little encouragement from influential republicans that he concluded it wasn't worth while to waste time in Globe, so took his departure on the train next morning.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Cramer, who for the past five or six weeks have been visiting relatives and friends in the middle states and seeing the world's fair, returned home on Tuesday evening. They spent some time in Indianapolis, Ind., and Columbus, Ohio, and also stopped at other points of interest, making the longest stay at St.
Louis, where they enjoyed the beauties and wonders of the exposition.
They had a splendid time and were also benefited physically by the trip.

AN EARLY MORNING WEDDING

Mr. George Kingdon and Miss Maud
B. Kenyon, the Principals

At the residence of Mr. and Mrs.
H. C. Kenyon, at six o'clock on Wednesday morning, Oct. 26, Miss Maud Bertha Kenyon was united in marriage to Mr. George Kingdon. Rev. Dr. R.
I. McKee, of the Methodist Episcopal church performed the ceremony, which was witnessed by only the relatives of the bride and two or three intimate friends. Immediately after the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served and the bridal couple were then driven to the depot where they boarded the train amid a shower of rice and the best wishes of the assembled relatives and friends.

The affair was a complete surprise to everybody except the very few who were taken into the confidence of the contracting parties, but the announcement was nevertheless received with pleasure by the numerous friends of both the bride and groom. The courtship, which has been of long duration, was tinged with just enough romance to heighten the interest in the affair to mutual friends, and the ending is as happy as was ever written in the pages of fiction.

The bride, possessed of both charm of face and character, has been a great favorite in Globe since childhood, and with the pleasure of her friends over her happy marriage is mingled regret that Globe has lost her.

Mr. Kingdon, the fortunate groom, was for many years a resident of Globe, and held responsible positions with the Old Dominion and United Globe mining companies, and he has many warm friends here. For the past two or three years he has been mine superintendent for Phelps, Dodge & Co., at their Nacozari mines in Sonora, Mexico.

Mr. and Mrs. Kingdon's wedding tour will include a visit to the world's fair and to New York and other cities in the east. On their return they will reside at Nacozari, where they will be at home to their friends after January 15, 1905.

We wish them all the happiness and prosperity possible of attainment.

W. C. Colcord, of Payson, democratic candidate for supervisor, arrived with the other candidates on Tuesday and will remain for a week or ten days interviewing voters in this precinct. Mr. Colcord has been a resident of Gila county for many years and is one of her best citizens. He will receive practically the entire vote of the precincts north of Roosevelt and should receive the support of the democrats of this precinct.

Mark Smith will arrive here on the train Sunday evening, and will be met at the depot by the local committee and other democrats, with the Globe band. Mr. Smith will have twenty-four hours in which to rest, renew old acquaintances and make new ones, and on Monday night will speak in Odd Fellows hall. The people of Globe will give him a warm reception.

W. S. Sultan returned last Tuesday from Los Angeles, where he and his wife were visiting relatives for a month. Mrs. Sultan will remain there with her parents for some time longer.

ELECTRIC LIGHT WORKS HAVE PECULIAR ACCIDENT

Last Saturday evening an accident happened at the electric light works which caused some damage to the plant and left the town in darkness for a short time.

The heavy belt on the big engine and dynamo slipped off when running at high speed. It was whisked backward with great force, stripping off all the connections on top of the engine and demolishing a pine door at the rear. The belt then shot forward, struck a window in the front of the building, smashing the upper sash, and was torn apart.

Mr. Cottee, one of the owners of the works, was in the room at the time, but very fortunately, was standing in the northeast corner, twenty feet from the dynamo.

The small engine and two 600-light machines were started up, but without a governor on the engine (one ordered from the east not having arrived) it was a hard proposition to supply steady lights. Later, the belt on the small engine was transferred to the larger one and Messrs. Cottee & James have had no further trouble.
They have ordered another belt, and when that and the repairs for the small engine arrive, they will be prepared for any emergency, although it is hoped they will not have another accident like that of last Saturday.

The cause of the accident is not definitely known, but Mr. Cottee says they had a man cleaning up around the engine, who spilled some oil on the belt, which probably caused it to slip when the engine was speeded up.
